

Heather Gardner, AIA Returns to Walter Robbs

WINSTON-SALEM, NC (April 28, 2015) – Walter Robbs Callahan & Pierce Architects, PA (Walter Robbs) the largest architectural firm in the Piedmont Triad, is pleased to announce Heather Gardner, AIA, LEED AP, has returned to the firm as Project Architect and Sustainable Design Director.

Heather was integral to the early sustainable design work of Walter Robbs, and continues to be so today. Heather has managed the LEED Certification process for dozens of Walter Robbs projects, in addition to being a Project Architect. Heather is currently serving as LEED Administrator the UNCG Student Recreation Center, the WFU McCreary Field House, as well as ten other projects. Before her family relocated to Virginia in 2009, Heather was, for seven years, the firm’s Sustainable Design Director. Heather was a key figure in establishing our local USGBC chapter; she served as the USGBC Piedmont Triad Chapter’s first President and was named to the Triad Business Journal’s “10 to Watch” list for that effort. Heather holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.
