

Architect Matthew S. Hart Joins Walter Robbs

WINSTON-SALEM, NC (November 30, 2016) - Walter Robbs Callahan & Pierce Architects, PA (Walter Robbs) is pleased to announce that Matthew S. Hart, AIA, NCARB has joined the firm as Project Architect.

Matt started in the profession in 2004 as an aspiring architect while attending Savannah College of Art and Design. He has since gained experience in multiple project types, including private developments and public projects for municipal, state and federal agencies. Matt's main focus is learning environments within K-12 and Higher Education markets. His work has included projects of various types such as classrooms, labs, and historic renovations through multiple project deliveries, including design-bid-build, design-build, and construction management at risk.

Matt attended the University of Florida's College of Design, Construction, and Planning for two years. He then transferred to the Savannah College of Art and Design (SCAD) in 2003, where he completed his Bachelor of Fine Arts (2005) and his Master of Architecture (2012). Matt is a Registered Architect and Registered Interior Designer in the State of Georgia and also holds an NCARB Certificate for reciprocity in other jurisdictions.

Matt has been active in the AIA since college serving on multiple boards, committees, and work groups at the student, local, regional, and national level.

Away from the office, Matt is heavily involved in community and mission work. As a volunteer with Habitat for Humanity, he spent two weeks in New Zealand with a Global Village Work Project, building two homes for two local Maori families. He has also worked on homes in Americus, Georgia and Valdosta, Georgia. Matt has also received the prestigious rank of Eagle Scout.
